Introduction

If California were a nation, it would have among the top ten economies in the world. The annual state budget is – next to the State Constitution – the most important document in California government. It spells out how budget dollars are distributed. Education, assistance for people with disabilities, tax relief, fire protection, road building and other public services are evaluated in an open public process that takes up much of the year – and frequently makes headlines.

With so much at stake, it is good to know how the budget process works and how Californians can influence it. When a citizen knows the process, they can find important information about state government finance. Knowing when and where and to whom to press the case for funding or de-funding is part of what this booklet is designed to explain. Demystifying the process for the public at large can help ensure that Californians have access to their own government.

The state budget is an expression of California society. In it there are popular programs and services balanced against demands for tax relief. The final state budget determines which services are provided and who pays for them, and reflects what Californians value.

The annual state budget is – next to the State Constitution – the most important document in California government.

How the Budget Process Works

THE GOVERNOR'S BUDGET PROPOSAL

Legislative review of the budget begins in January and typically runs through June.

The State Constitution requires the Governor to submit a balanced budget proposal to the Legislature by January 10 of each year. The proposal details the state's spending plan for the fiscal year beginning on July 1.

The five-month period for consideration and passage of the state's multi-billion dollar general fund budget is the critical period.

The Constitution requires that the Governor's proposal be introduced in both the Assembly and the Senate as identical budget bills.

A large portion of state spending is constrained by the Constitution or Court action. Many of these constraints have been imposed by the voters through the initiative process. Proposition 13 of 1978 limits the amount of property tax that can be levied and increases state control over local finances; Proposition 4 of 1979 limits the amount of money that the state can appropriate; Proposition 98 of 1988 mandates funding levels from pre-kindergarten to community college.

A new budget is adopted for the state every year. The fiscal year runs from July 1 through June 30.

After its introduction, the Legislature has until June 15 to pass the budget. This five-month period—a comparatively short time frame for consideration and passage of the state's multi-billion dollar general fund budget—is the critical period for public comment on the state's spending priorities.

The Legislative Analyst's Office (LAO), the Legislature's nonpartisan fiscal advisor, publishes a series of reports that review the Governor's budget proposal, starting in January. The LAO's analyses are typically incorporated in the budget discussions in both houses of the Legislature. The reports include program background information, economic projections and recommended revisions to the Governor’s budget proposal.

LEGISLATIVE BUDGET COMMITTEE HEARINGS

In each house, the budget committee reviews the budget bill through May. The Senate budget committee, officially known as the Senate Committee on Budget and Fiscal Review, typically holds overview hearings in January and February. The Governor’s budget proposal is then divided into broad subject matters (such as Education, Resources, Health and Human Services or State Administration), and the committee assigns each state agency and department to one of five subcommittees. Subcommittee hearings typically begin in March. Before each hearing, the subcommittee staff prepare extensive agendas detailing the Governor’s proposals and alternatives. The agendas are available to anyone on the budget committee’s website.

During the subcommittee hearings, the Legislature has its broadest discussion of budget alternatives and makes many changes to the original proposed budget. State agencies, the Governor’s Department of Finance and the LAO appear before these subcommittees with their recommendations. Interested citizens or groups may also appear before subcommittees. The subcommittee hearings are the best time for Californians to voice their opinions. Subcommittee hearings are open to the public and broadcast on the Internet. By May 14, the Governor announces an updated revenue forecast, which accounts for changes in revenues since January.

hearings may be the best time to have your voice heard.*

At this time, the Governor proposes more changes to the budget proposal. The update is known as the “May Revise” or “May Revision.” The subcommittees have about a week to consider the changes proposed.

Timing is Critical

Make sure that any communication you attempt is accomplished as early in the budget process as possible. If you are concerned about budget issues, let your legislator know.

- Call the district office.
- Write a letter.
- Meet with your legislator or a member of their staff.
- Send an email.

If you are concerned about budget issues, let your legislator know.

Many legislators use social media as an additional means of communicating with constituents by posting legislative resources and information. Check to see if your legislator uses any social media platforms to engage in conversation with their constituents.

After completion of the hearings, each subcommittee votes on the proposed changes and submits a report to the full Senate budget committee. Any issues that are not voted on in subcommittee hearings may be voted on in the full budget committee.

The full committee may accept the report or amend it. The revisions are incorporated into the budget bill and sent to the full membership of the Senate for consideration. The Assembly follows a similar process.

Each house discusses and then votes on its version of the budget bill. A few items may receive careful scrutiny at this time, but most are accepted. It is possible for the bill to be amended on the floor of either house. Amendments may be suggested by any Member of the Legislature.

From the Floor, each house’s budget bill may be referred to a joint budget conference committee where differences between the houses can be resolved.

In recent years, the Senate and Assembly have worked together to adopt the same budget bill in each house, known as a “legislative budget”, and a conference committee is not necessary. For the public, this means that participation early in the process, during subcommittee hearings, is more important for providing feedback to Members.

committee change must garner a majority from

JOINT LEGISLATIVE BUDGET COMMITTEE

If the Assembly and Senate do adopt different versions of a budget bill, then the differences between the Assembly and Senate versions are worked out in the budget conference committee. Membership and size of the committee is determined by the leadership of the houses. Typically, the committee may only discuss those items in which there are differences between the two versions. These items are usually the most contentious in the budget. The hearings of the budget conference committee are open to the public and are broadcast on the Internet.

No public testimony is heard during the conference committee hearings. The Legislature’s role to agree, amend or reject budget items is on full display during the conference committee hearings.

Upon completion of its review, the conference committee votes on the proposed version. Legislative rules require that any conference committee change must garner a majority from each house.

In the event the conference committee cannot conclude or agree, legislative leadership may meet privately with the Governor or with each other to discuss any impasse.

LEADERSHIP MEETINGS

When a compromise is reached, the leadership requests the conference committee conclude its deliberations and include the compromise.

When the conference committee adopts a compromise, it amends the budget bill, referred to at this point as the “conference committee report.” The report is passed to the Floor of each house simultaneously. A conference committee report cannot be amended and must be approved by each house. If substantive statutory law must be amended in order to implement the budget, these statutory changes must also be passed by each house. Such bills are known as “trailer bills,” as they “trail” the budget and are processed separately from the main budget bill.

GOVERNOR’S SIGNATURE

Typically, the Governor has 12 working days to sign the budget bill. The Governor also has the authority to “blue pencil” (reduce or eliminate) any appropriation contained in the budget. It is critical that you contact the Governor either by letter, phone or email to express your concerns about the budget. Because the budget bill is an urgency measure, it goes into effect as soon as it is signed.

In recent years, when a legislative budget agreement is passed, leadership may continue to negotiate with the Governor, and when a final agreement is reached, each house would move an identical additional budget bill, amending the legislative budget to reflect final agreement. This bill is known as a “budget bill jr.”, and the Governor may sign both the budget bill and the budget bill jr. within the 12 day period to sign the budget bill.

VETO OVERRIDE

The Legislature can override any blue-penciled item by a two-thirds vote in both houses. In practice, the Legislature rarely overrides a budget veto.

Budget Timeline

July 1

Fiscal year begins.

July 9 - September 15

Department directors and agency heads initiate detailed reviews and develop budget proposals for their programs for the next fiscal year. These requests for program changes are then sent to the Department of Finance for review.

October - January 10

The Governor evaluates the requests as reviewed by the Department of Finance and sends the proposed budget to the Legislature.

On or before January 10, the Governor delivers a state-of-the-state speech and presents the budget proposal.

January - February

The budget committee chairs in each house introduce the Governor's budget proposal in bill form. The Legislative Analyst's Office conducts a detailed review of the budget bill and releases various reports.

March - May

Each house refers its budget bill to their respective budget committees. The bills are then broken down by subject and assigned to the appropriate subcommittees by subject areas. After completion of the hearings, each subcommittee votes and then sends its report to the full budget committee.

Late May - June 15

The budget committee of each house considers the subcommittees' reports and sends a revised budget bill to the Floor for evaluation by the full body. Each house discusses and then votes on its version of the budget bill. The differences between the Assembly and Senate versions of the budget bill, if any, may be worked out in a conference committee. Upon completion of its review, the conference committee submits a single version of the budget bill to both houses. The Senate and Assembly each vote on this final version before it is sent to the Governor.

The houses also vote on trailer bills if statutory changes are necessary to implement provisions of the budget bill.

June 15 - July 1

The bill becomes law as soon as it is signed by the Governor due to its status as an urgency measure. If necessary, a budget bill jr. may also become law as part of the final budget deal.

APPROPRIATION - money set apart in the budget, or by a piece of legislation, typically for a specific use.

APPROPRIATION LIMIT - established by Prop. 4 (Section 8 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution). The limit is adjusted annually but based on the 1986-87 appropriation amount.

AUGMENTATION - an increase in an appropriation.

BILL - a proposed law introduced by a Member of the Legislature. The budget bill is a list of appropriations for the fiscal year, by department, fund source and type. A budget bill jr. is a bill that amends a budget bill.

BUDGET - suggested allocation of state moneys presented annually by the Governor to the Legislature for consideration.

BUDGET ACT - budget bill after it has been signed into law by the Governor.

BUDGET CHANGE PROPOSAL (BCP) - document prepared by a state agency to propose and justify budget changes to existing levels of service and is used in preparing the Governor's budget.

COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT (COLA) - increases provided in state-funded programs which are intended to offset the effects of inflation.

DEFICIENCY - if a department has an unanticipated increase in its costs, it may incur costs in excess of the funding appropriated in the Budget Act. It will seek a "deficiency" appropriation in legislation.

FISCAL COMMITTEE - in addition to the budget committee, the Appropriations Committees in the Assembly and the Senate are the fiscal committees to which all fiscal bills, except the budget and related budget trailer bills, are referred if they are approved by policy committees. If the fiscal committee approves a bill, it then moves to the Floor.

Major State Budget Propositions

PROPOSITION 13

Passed in June 1978, Proposition 13 puts a cap on property taxes by assessing property value upon change of ownership or new construction. Thereafter, the taxable value may increase by no more than the rate of inflation or 2%, whichever is less. Proposition 13 and legislation following the enactment of Proposition 13 fundamentally shifted the funding of schools and other services delivered by the counties to the state.

PROPOSITION 4

Passed in November 1979, Proposition 4 (later amended in 1990 by Proposition 111), added Article XIII B in the California Constitution which limits the growth in appropriations of both state and local governments to changes in the cost of living and population in order to control the spending levels established by California governments. The appropriations limit is based on appropriations from tax revenue. If the state has revenues over the limit over two consecutive years, the State Constitution requires the state to split the excess between taxpayer rebates and additional spending on schools. The state appropriations limit is commonly called the “SAL” or the “Gann limit” for one of the measure’s coauthors, Paul Gann.

PROPOSITION 98

An initiative passed in November 1988 that provides a minimum funding guarantee for school districts and community colleges. The term is also used to refer to any expenditure which fulfills the guarantee.

PROPOSITION 1A

In November 2004, the voters of California approved an amendment to the California State Constitution intended to restore predictability and stability to local government budgets.

PROPOSITION 25

Passed in November 2010, Proposition 25 changed the legislative vote requirement necessary to pass the state budget and spending bills related to the budget from two-thirds to a simple majority. Proposition 25 also provides that if the Legislature fails to pass a budget bill by June 15, all Members of the Legislature will permanently forfeit any reimbursement for salary and expenses for every day until the day the Legislature passes a budget bill.

PROPOSITION 26

Also passed in November 2010, Proposition 26 requires that certain state fees be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature and certain local fees be approved by two-thirds of voters. The measure also increases the legislative vote requirement to two-thirds for certain tax measures, including those that increase any taxpayer’s liability but do not result in a new increase in revenue, previously subject to majority vote.
